The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities: page 2 line 5 "imagining" should be ~~imagining~~; the description of figure 3 in paragraph 27 does not correspond to figure 3 as the "bottom diagram" does not show 22.

Appropriate correction is required.

New corrected drawings in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in this application because the present drawings are obviously informal. Applicant is advised to employ the services of a competent patent draftsman outside the Office, as the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office no longer prepares new drawings. The corrected drawings are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. The requirement for corrected drawings will not be held in abeyance.

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1,2,4 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Hu et al '036.

Hu teaches detector with "pixels" or sensor areas connected to underlying semiconductor circuitry with indium "bumps" or columns approximately 75 microns in height. See column 1 and column 2 line 22. Claims 1,2,4 and 5 are rejected.

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over Hu et al.

In regard to claim 3, although Hu does not explicitly state the material of the detector, the claimed semiconductor materials are well known for detectors operating at 77 degrees, as evidenced, for example, by applicant's description of the prior art. Accordingly, a Hu detector with Si, Ge, CdTe, etc. material would have been prima facie obvious.

In anticipation of any arguments regarding the process used to make applicant's device: patentability of a product by process claim is determined by the final product, regardless of how actually made, In re Hirao 190 USPQ 15 at 17 (footnote 3). See also In re Brown 173 USPQ 685; In re Luck 177 USPQ 523; In re Fessman 180 USPQ 324; In re Avery 186 USPQ 161; In re Wertheim 191 USPQ 90; and In re Morosi 218 USPQ 289, all of which make it clear that it is patentability of the final product per se which must be determined in a "product by process" claim, and not the patentability of the process, and that an old or obvious product produced by a new method is not patentable as a product, whether claimed in "product by process" claims or not. Note that applicant has the burden of proof in such cases, as the above caselaw makes clear.
